Empathy Map

Create an empathy map to understand your customer/user from four perspectives - what they Say, Think, Do, and Feel - in relation to the problem your project addresses. This helps the team build a customer-centric solution.

Ananya - Student / Self-Directed Learner

SAYS	THINKS
"I don't have time to read a whole chapter for one concept." "I need this explained more simply." "I want to test myself before the real exam."	"Am I actually understanding this, or just memorizing it?" "Is there a faster way to learn this topic?" "I wish I had a personal tutor available any time."
PERSONA NAME (Role / User Type)
- Searches Google / YouTube for explanations of confusing topics. - Rewrites lecture notes by hand to create a personal summary. - Asks classmates or online forums to test them with quiz-style questions.	- Anxious in the days before an exam. - Overwhelmed by unstructured, lengthy material. - Relieved and confident once a concept finally 'clicks'.
